

Catching up

March 22-2010

Well it's been a while but here we are! We are very busy and updating the website gets left behind sometimes. Below is a summary of what's keeping us busy these days.

Bella

We've recently signed her up for puppy training. She really enjoys it and it's a great way for her to interact with other dogs. It's just basic training at first but the level is going up every week giving her more advanced tasks and learning new commands. Wilma is doing the training every week and the neighbours signed their dog up as well so they drive together. Bella is improving every week and is starting to listen better by the day. She also found her bark (finally) and warns us if something unfamiliar is driving into the yard.

House

We had some real warm weather which had melted all the snow. This warm weather also inspired us to do some work on the house. We had ordered the stairs to the basement a couple of weeks ago and have installed it with a bit of help from the neighbours. It's a great improvement and the next step is to start building the all rooms. We have never done anything like that before and there is a lot involved with such a project but we have the time. If all goes well we might be starting this week.

All the moisture had turned the yard into one big mud slide but luckily that's all dried up by now. We will be seeding some grass this year and put down some walkways!

Business

Vince has started his own business and this is taking up all the time and energy he has. Every moment of the day is spent on setting this all up. It's a great challenge and another wonderful life experience. There is so much involved in starting up a new business but he is on the right track, more on this at a later time.

And for the rest

We had our 3 year anniversary yesterday and are still as happy as can be ☺

It has warmed up outside and the evenings are getting longer which enables us to work with the horses a lot more. Vince has got himself some nice riding boots and is ready to start riding as well. The annual rodeo is also coming up soon and we will be going for sure.

So things are going alright and we are starting to get used to a new steady rhythm in our lives.

One of the many beautiful sunsets seen from the porch